

DIPARTIMENTO DI FARMACIA E BIOTECNOLOGIE

Il giorno venerdì 25 Gennaio 2019
alle ore 14:30
presso l'Aula A, ex Farmacologia, via Irnerio 48

i vincitori dei contributi alla mobilità del Programma
Marco Polo 2017 presenteranno la loro esperienza

PROGRAMMA

Dott.ssa Silvia Cirillo: “Assessing free radical production from different coils applied to e-cigarettes” - Pennsylvania State University, USA

Dott.ssa Serena Bertoni: “An inflammation-targeting nano-in-micro system for local drug delivery in inflammatory bowel disease” - University of Helsinki, Finlandia

Dott.ssa Ilaria Conti: “Characterization of human erythroid progenitor cells for their susceptibility and permissiveness to Human Parvovirus B19 infection” - University of Bern, Svizzera

Dott. Libero Gurrieri: “Study of bam1-2 mutant and its role in circadian regulation of starch degradation” - John Innes Center, Regno Unito

Dott.ssa Anna Tramarin: “RAGE in Diabetes Mellitus: characterization of AGE-RAGE interaction by surface plasmon resonance (SPR) and affinity mass spectrometry (affinity-MS)” - Steinbeis Centre for BioPolymer Analysis and Biomedical Mass Spectrometry, Germania

Dott. Riccardo Ocello, “QM/MM dynamics of biologically relevant systems” - University of Bristol, Regno Unito

I colleghi e gli studenti interessati sono cordialmente invitati

Commissione Ricerca e Attività Correlate - FaBiT
